

DROPS "BOMB" IN FRUIT STAND

Unknown Person Attempts to Murder Italian Family on Second Avenue.

THROWN FROM ELEVATED

Fruit Vendor, His Daughter and Innocent Bystander All Injured.

NEW YORK, January 5.—A bomb of giant powder and shot was dropped from an elevated railway station into a crowd of people at the corner of Second Avenue and Forty-second Street to-night. In the explosion that followed three persons were injured seriously, and of these two probably will die. The outrage was seemingly directed against the proprietor of a fruit store on the corner, and this man, Salvatore Chinnica, aged thirty-nine years, was one of the two dangerously injured. The other was Mary Bailey, forty years old, who was making a purchase at the stand. The fifteen-year-old son of Chinnica was less dangerously injured. The bomb-thruster escaped in the excitement. The bomb fell on the sidewalk directly in front of the fruit store, and almost at the feet of Chinnica, his son and Miss Bailey. Many persons were passing at the time and a dozen of these were thrown to the ground. The crowd fled in panic, leaving the three seriously injured, senseless in the midst of mangled fruit, broken glass and splintered wood.

CRUTCHFIELD ABROAD.

Enjoys a Trip Occasionally to the Station-Houses.

Justice John J. Crutchfield walked into the First Police Station about 10 o'clock last night, and after "cussing out" several officers and two men who were smoking cigarettes, incidentally remarked that something was radically wrong with the department.

"And why this utterance?" asked an officer.

"Because I turned out about 120 drunks at Christmas time, and up to this time I have seen only twelve of them. Think of only one dozen out of ten dozens!"

"The terrible," ejaculated the man behind the desk.

At this point there was heard the rumbling of wheels and a wagon stopped near the desk. The driver, a "drunk" "tail," came a mile from the steps.

"Ah, go on, and step lively!" This sound came from the throat of an officer.

Wilbur Goddin, a white man, who often times has been in the court, was evidently under the influence of dope, for he was exceedingly nervous.

"That's the thirteenth creature for me," ejaculated the One John. "I turned him out Christmas and he has come mighty well to be more than sixteen here to-night when I chanced to drop in."

Justice Crutchfield remained at the Police Station for several hours, laughing with the officers. He is in occasional better health and enjoys a trip occasionally to the station-houses, where he is always treated royally.

But when a spectator pulled a cigarette and the fumes from the "cotton stick" penetrated the nostrils of the One John, there was a fuss. He immediately got a shovel and no one would have believed him to be more than sixteen years of age from the way he handled his weapon.

BARNESS BURDETT-COUTTS BURIED

Great Crowd Witnessed Interment in the Abbey—Distinguished Gathering.

LONDON, January 5.—In the presence of a congregation representative of all classes, the body of Baroness Burdett-Coutts was interred in Westminster Abbey to-day, under the shadow of the benedictions of the late philanthropist and friend, the Earl of Shaftesbury.

The abbey was filled to its capacity. King Edward and Queen Alexandra and the Prince and Princess of Wales sent representatives, as did the workers in the slums of London, under the shadow of the benedictions of the late baroness's charity.

The American charge d'affaires, Mr. Carter, represented the American embassy, and the Lord Mayor and corporation attended in state. The streets along the route of the procession and in the vicinity of the abbey were lined with spectators, who included many of the poorest inhabitants of the East End.
